Flashback 2000-2001

I say to you today, my friends, that inspite of the difficulties and frustrations of the moment I still have a dream. It is a dream deeply rooted in the American dream. I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: "We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal." I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slave owners will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood. I have a dream that one day even the state of Mississippi, a desert state sweltering with the heat of injustice and oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice. I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character. I have a dream today. I have a dream that one day the state of Alabama, whose governors lips are presently dripping with the words of interposition and nullification, will be transformed into a situation where little black boys and black girls will be able to join hands with little white boys and white girls and walk together as sisters and brothers. I have a dream today. I have a dream that one day every valley shall be exalted, every hill and mountain shall be made low, the rough places will be made plain, and the crooked places will be made straight, in the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together. This is our hope. This is our faith with which I return to the South. With this faith we will be able to hew out of the mountain of despair a stone of hope. With this faith we will be able to transform the jangling discords of our nation into a beautiful symphony of brotherhood. With this faith we will be able to work together, to pray together, to struggle together, to go to jail together, to stand up for freedom together, knowing that we will be free one day. This will be the day when all of God's children will be able to sing with new meaning, "My country 'tis of thee, sweet land of liberty, of thee I sing. Land where my fathers died, land of the Pilgrims' pride, from every mountain's side, let freedom ring." And if America is to be a great nation this must become true. So let freedom ring from the prodigious hilltops of New Hampshire. Let freedom ring from the mighty mountains of New York. Let freedom ring from the heightening Alleghenies of Pennsylvania! Let freedom ring from the snowcapped Rockies of Colorado! Let freedom ring from the curvaceous peaks of California! But not only that; let freedom ring from Stone Mountain of Georgia! Let freedom ring from Lookout Mountain of Tennessee! Let freedom ring from every hill and molehill of Mississippi. From every mountain side, let freedom ring. When we let freedom ring, when we let it ring from every village and every hamlet, from every state and every city, we will be able to speed up that day when all of God's children, black men and white men, Jews and Gentiles, Protestants and Catholics, will be able to join hands and sing in the words of the old Negro spiritual, "Free at last! Free at last! Thank God Almighty, we are free at last!"

- "I Have a Dream" by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

To Our Mentor and Teacher

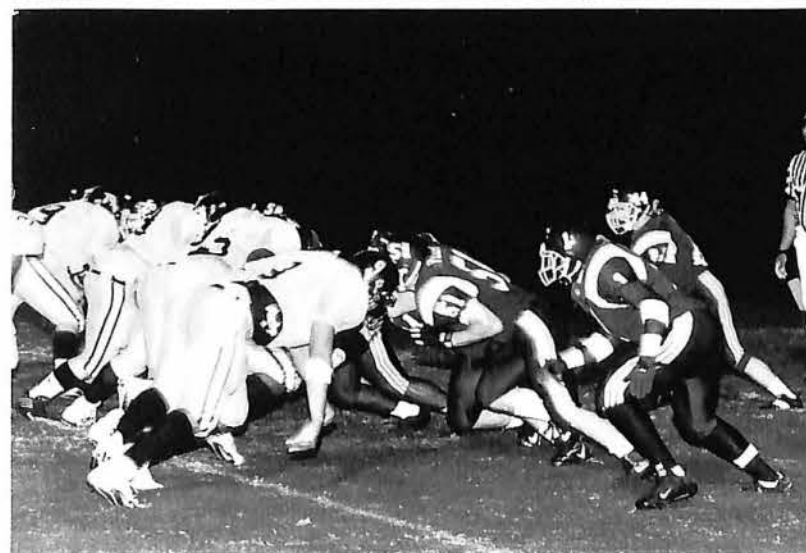

Mrs. Keren Wells

The 2000-2001 Flashback Yearbook is dedicated to Mrs. Keren Wells who has been the yearbook advisor for over ten years at Oxford High School. Mrs. Wells kindly taught this year's staff how to put a yearbook together with skill and ease. For this we are grateful and we will never forget you. For the remainder of our lives, each time we look at the yearbook we will remember you with love. Thank you, Mrs. Wells!

- Homecoming turned out exceptionally well this year. The whole student body participated in the Homecoming carnival and the students as well as the teachers, had a fun time with the hall decorating. The football players, cheerleaders, band, and guard did an outstanding job at the game and the homecoming court not only looked wonderful, but did an excellent job during half time.

Teach your parents well.
Their children's hell will slowly go by,
and feed them on your dreams.
The one they pick's the one you'll know by.

Don't you ever ask them
why. If they told you, you would
cry. So just look at them and sigh and know they love
you.

After A While . . . You Learn

After a while, you learn the subtle difference
Between holding a hand and chaining a soul;
And you learn that love doesn't mean leaning
And company doesn't mean security,
And you begin to learn that kisses aren't contracts
And presents aren't promises,

And you begin to accept your defeats
With your head up and your eyes open
With the grace of a woman/man, not the grief of a child,
And you learn to build all your roads on today
Because tomorrow's ground is too uncertain for plans.
And futures have a way of falling down in mid-flight.

After a while, you learn
That even sunshine burns if you get too much.
So you plant your own garden and decorate your own soul,
Instead of waiting for someone to bring you flowers.

And you learn that you really can endure . . .
That you really are strong . . .
And you really do have worth . . .
And you learn and learn . . .
With every goodbye, you learn.

"A Farewell To All"
by Chase Campos

So long ago into this world we were thrown,
And now so quickly time has made us grown.
In our time we have had perils and quests,
And in our time we have had memories that are the best.
Hand in hand down this road we have walked,
Creating memories that in our minds are forever locked

Times that we look back upon and shed a tear,
And times we reflect upon with jeer or cheer.
But now t'is time for our paths divide,
No more will the some ones be along for the ride.
New partners for this journey we shall meet,
People with different tales, memories, and feet.
For the journey now is forever and alone,
with only us to our own actions condone.
This journey shall give our souls a song,
A song that we shall sing forever long.
And though the road might not be paved in gold,
Just be patient and strong, for what the future beholds.
It is unknown to us all.

So as we look behind us and see our former path,
Remember all the good times, and give a laugh.
For though the road seems windy and cold,
These tender memories shall stay till you're old.
And even though the best memories of our life are yet to come,
I guarantee that along this path we have made some.

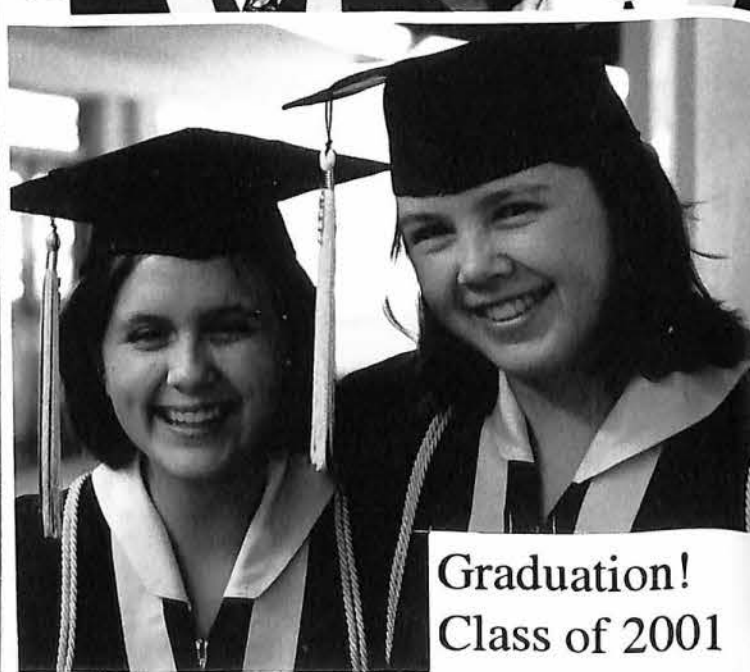

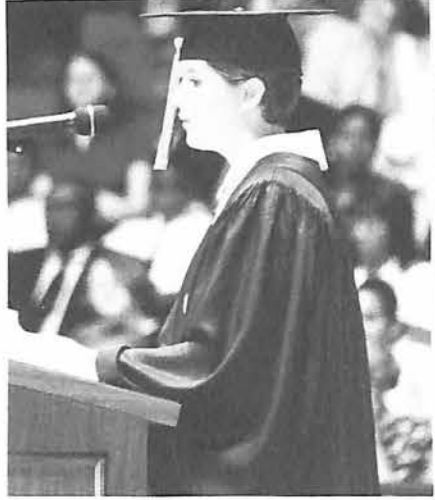

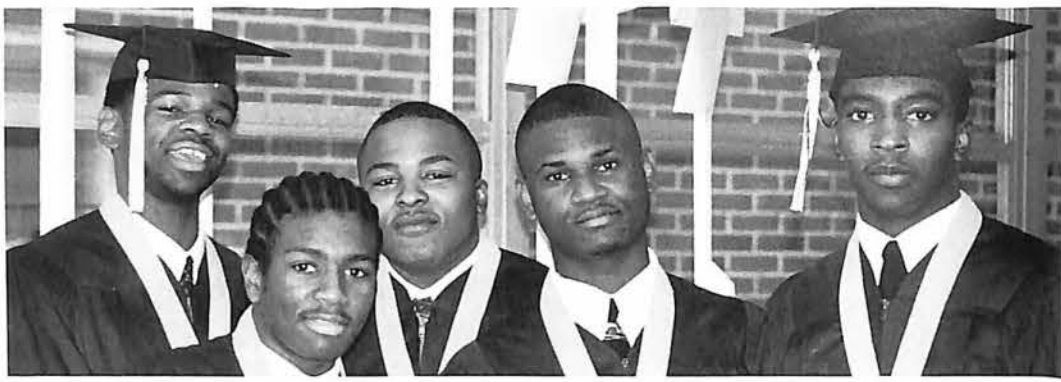

So to all my partners walking down life's road,
Let us pack up our bags, journey light and go.
For a world full of life awaits only you,
So be strong, be wise, and most of all, stay true.

20/20
by Jennifer Panhorst

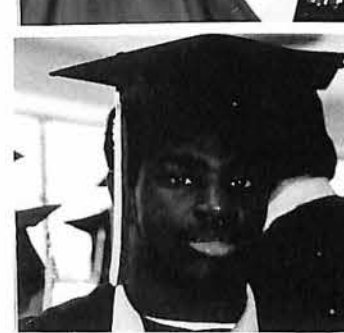

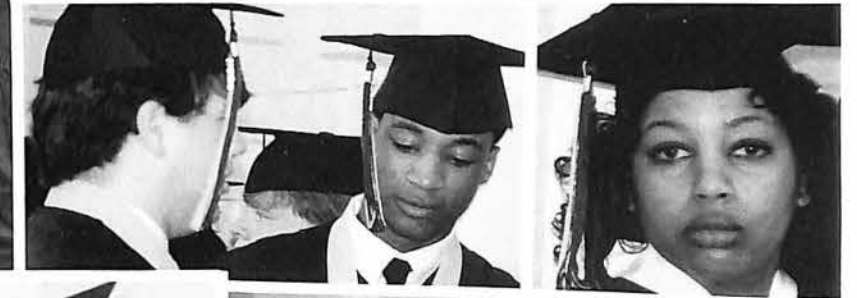

While you trudge through it
Life is so long, long, long
So very long
Not sure when things are going to be over
Wishing it would be soon
So you can go out there and "live"
(Whatever that means)
Adults say these are the best days of life
It sure doesn't feel like it
All that bad stuff
Heartache, sorrow, anger
Just wears you out
And sometimes makes you say
"Why do I even bother?"
Many times you feel so very alone
Whenever you get the chance
You want to fly away, free as a bird
And then
BOOM!
All done.
And where did the time go?
Everything went by so fast.
So now what am I going to do?
The questions just fly around
A little unnerving, to be honest
Change is hard even when it's good
And now is when you remember things such as
The laugh of your best friend
The first sight of your biggest crush
All of the time-that-when stories
The good stuff you take for granted
But you can't go back
Now you're on the runway and have to fly
Everything came and went like a gust of wind
But it did happen

The Way We Were

Memories light the corner of my mind.

Misty water color memories

Of the way we were.

Scattered pictures of the smiles we left behind,

Smiles we gave to one another

For the way we were.

Can it be that it was all so simple then,

Or has time rewritten every line?

If we had the chance to do it all again,

Tell me? would we? could we?

Memories may be beautiful and yet,

What's too painful to remember

We simply choose to forget.

So it's the laughter

We will remember,

Whenever we remember

The way we were;

The way we were.

Teaching offers something. It offers love.

Not only the love of learning and of books and ideas, but also the love that a teacher feels for that rare student who walks into a teacher's life and begins to breathe.

I teach because being around people who are beginning to breathe, I occasionally find myself catching my breath with them.

We will miss you Ms Eileen Bost, Mrs. Judy Jones, and Mrs. Mae Shelby. Thank you for loving us and teaching us to breathe. We will always love you and treasure our memories of you.

Congratulations

We Love you
Brianna and Meyer!
Thank you for all your hard work!

Editors Closing

First of all, we would like to thank our friends and family for all the support they have given us this year and all our life. We may not express our appreciation enough, but just know we care. High school has been hard work. The classes bring forth stress, but overall, the fun times outweigh the hard, stressful times. Some say high school is the best four years of your life...we beg to differ. High school has been fun, but this is not the end, it is only the beginning. We will go on to bigger and better places where our dreams and goals get bigger and more extravagant. We will accomplish our goals, and when we do, it will be then, that we can say "These years have been the best years of my life".

After accomplishing these four years of high school, we walk with pride, staring into the heavens knowing the great goals we have accomplished. We have left our footprints in the sand, now it is your turn to give it all you have.

Love Always,

Brianna Ferdig
&
Meyer Seligman
