Appendix

In the 2022-23 academic year, the Net Promoter Score metric was added to multiple surveys conducted by Studer Education partners: Employee, Parent/Caregiver, and Student Experience Surveys. The Net Promoter Score measures a loyalty relationship between an organization and the survey participants. The scores are categorized into 3 areas: Detractors (unhappy, dissatisfied), Passives (“on the fence”/neutral), and Promoters (engaged, enthusiastic). The NPS can range from -100 (lowest, everyone is a Detractor) to +100 (highest, everyone is a Promoter). The NPS is calculated by subtracting the percentage of Detractors from the percentage of Promoters.

When interpreting the NPS, the following guidelines may be helpful:

- 100 to 0: there are more detractors than promoters and a good opportunity for improvement
- 0 to 30: good performance, opportunity for improvement
- 30 to 50: strong performance, sustain or grow
- 50 to 100: excellent performance, sustain

The NPS questions for Student Experience were:

1. How likely are you to recommend your school as a good place to learn?

In the first round of surveys administered in Fall 2022-Spring 2023, baseline NPS metrics were established.

1. How likely are you to recommend your school as a good place to learn?
Individual Partner NPS ranged from -55.63 to +26.34
Average Partner Network NPS: -3.4
85,847 students responded over 37 partners.
